

Rothschild & Co Risk-Based Canada Index

Monthly Report As of 12/31/2020

The Rothschild & Co Risk-Based Canada Index provides an alternative to market-cap weighting with a risk-based approach to index construction. The strategy seeks to equalize risk contribution of index constituents and to maximize risk diversification while avoiding excessive turnover and portfolio concentration. The approach seeks to provide lower volatility, reduced maximum drawdown and higher Sharpe ratio compared with market capitalization indices over the long-term.
